Becky, the only thing I have that is close is the email below. We had a vacancy in our Superfund branch and solicited interest. We got one person who wanted to move. Do you think this is responsive based on the clarification? We have nothing else that is even close.

Hi Ben and Cheryl

I am interested in working in the Superfund branch. I've worked in the [REDACTED] and I'd like the opportunity to practice in a new area of law. I think it's good for EPA attorneys, from a professional development perspective, to be well-rounded and have experience with all of the environmental laws EPA administers. I also think it benefits the agency to have attorneys who are competent in a wide range of laws and issues, as it allows for more flexibility in staffing specific assignments and details.

I have prior experience with CERCLA issues that I think makes me a good candidate to transfer. I worked as a summer intern in the [REDACTED]. Also, I've dealt with CERCLA issues during my time in private practice. Specifically, while I was an [REDACTED], I worked on the [REDACTED], which dealt with a private party's rights to seek cost recovery for cleanup costs under CERCLA.

Thanks for your consideration

By now everyone probably knows that we are advertising in the hopes of filling some vacancies. Before we begin looking at applicants, we thought we would give you all an opportunity to express an interest in learning a new area of law. If you are interested in working in Superfund or Air Enforcement branches, please send an email detailing your interest to Cheryl Seager and me by noon Tuesday, December 6. Thank you and have a nice weekend.
